- Growth in stewardship and giving?
- Parents actively passing on the faith to their children?
- Faith formation classes filled with eager participants?
- New ministry leaders?
- More priestly and religious vocations?

But how do you make it happen?

Making Disciples is a four-day workshop that trains parish leaders to foster an awakening of personal faith in Christ and intentional discipleship.

YEAR OF FAITH 2012
2013

The evangelizing awareness and skills learned in Making Disciples are being used by diocesan and parish leaders as part of Catholics Come Home outreaches, in RCIA, evangelization, young adult and campus ministry, gifts and vocational discernment, and in nearly any kind of ministry situation imaginable.

These skills are also being used by Catholics with family, friends, and co-workers in secular settings.

Making Disciples will help you learn:

- How intentional discipleship differs from and fosters Catholic identity and is the source of the spiritual life and foundation of effective pastoral ministry.
- How discipleship makes catechesis a life-changing experience.
- How to introduce post-modern people to Jesus and the Church.
- How to recognize pre-discipleship stages of spiritual growth and facilitate spiritual growth in the baptized and non-baptized.
- How you and your parishioners can share your own personal witness and the “Great Story” of Jesus in gentle, intriguing, and non-threatening ways.
- How the charisms help spiritual seekers make the journey to intentional discipleship.
- How parish based evangelization processes and other existing parish programs can help create a parish culture of discipleship.
- How to integrate these evangelizing skills and concepts into the full spectrum of parish life and ministry.
